MOUNTAIN LION

Mountain lion hunting in the Western US can be one of the most exciting big game hunts on the market, but the success of a lion hunt is dependent upon the capability of the hunting dogs and the men who handle them. We have trusted this outfitter for more than eight years because he hunts with exceptional hunting dogs and has been very successful in consistently taking very big lions. Hunting in both Colorado and Utah, this destination offers a client the best chance at securing an exceptional trophy.

Trophy Mountain Lion

These hunts take place in Wyoming and Colorado during the winter months. Along with good snow conditions the most important element of a successful lion hunt is to have great hounds; this outfitter offers fantastic hunting hounds and success rates have been in the 90% - 100% range on nice mature toms. This is one of the most underrated trophies in North America as it is an exciting hunt that offers a hunter high success for a reasonable price. Taking place during the time period when there is very little else to hunt in North America, don't discount how exhilarating a lion hunt would be; not to mention a beautiful animal to add to your trophy room!
